Route Athens / Saronic / Cyclades

Athens, the capital, is built in the Attica Basin surrounded by a series of hills. Our base, in the Alimos Marina, is an ideal spot to begin sailing in the region. The Saronic and the Peloponnese area is a pleasant place to sail with a wide variety of landscapes, small distances between islands, sandy or pebbled beaches and both busy and secluded ports and anchorages.

In all the bigger islands in the region (Aegina, Aghistri, Poros, Hydra and Spetses) and in other known mainland ports (Epidavros, Methana, Ermioni, Porto-Heli, Nafplio and Monemvassia) there is much to explore and apart from the charming crowded capitals there are equally beautiful tranquil corners one can explore.

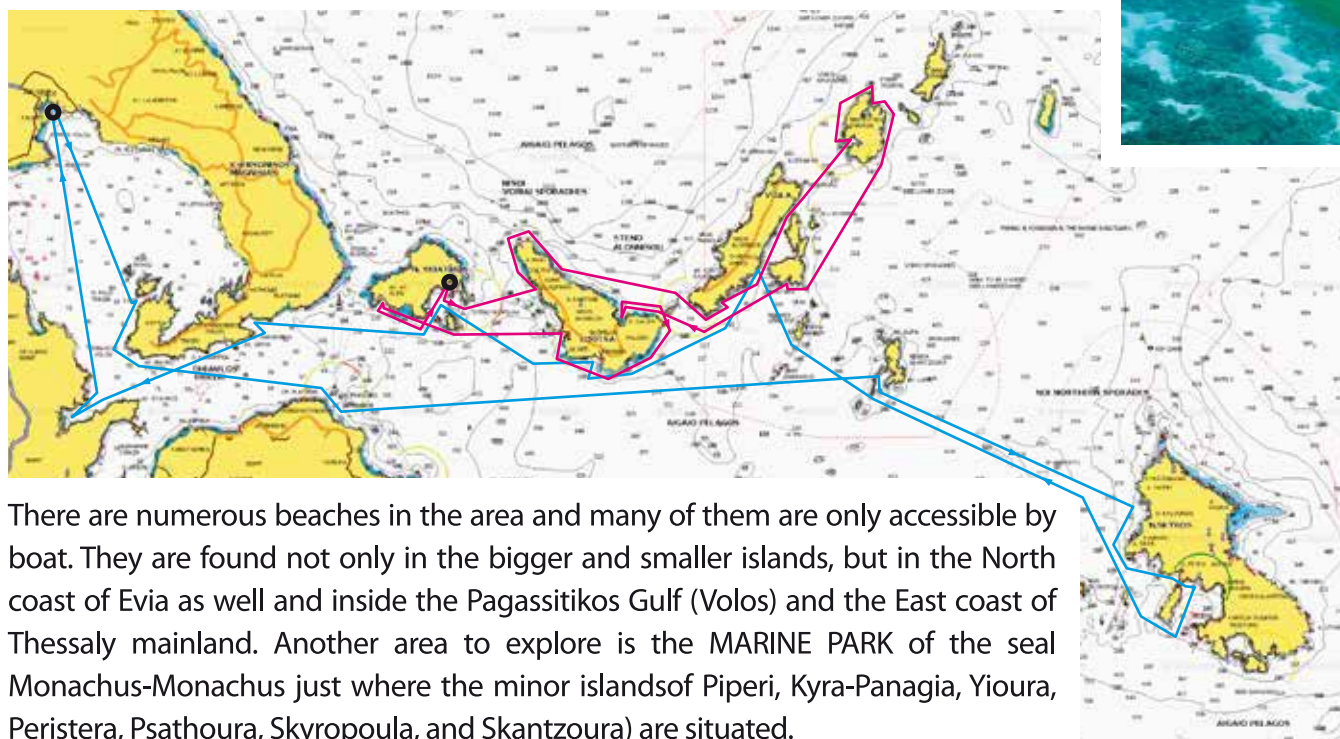

Sheltered anchorages and safe waters for beginners and sailors with a reasonable amount of experience are found in the waters of the vicinity. In other words Ideal family cruising.

You can start your sailing cruise from our charter base in Athens Kalamaki Marina at pier 7.

Route Skiathos / Volos

Among all sailing areas in Greece, the Sporades is an exceptional one. Four major and 24 minor islands make up the Sporades in the Aegean Sea. Our main base is on the island of Skiathos an emerald in a blue seascape, but we also offer yachts from Volos. Skiathos is a forested island, with many inlets. Dense vegetation; rocky landscapes, and pure blue seas: a uniquely alternative destination. Go island-hopping in a paradise island complex!

Although Skiathos is the most popular holiday destination in the area with the most famous beaches, the other three bigger islands of the Sporades Group (Skopelos, Alonissos and Skyros) are equally beautiful and more unspoilt. All of them consist of mountainous terrain, covered with dense vegetation.

There are numerous beaches in the area and many of them are only accessible by boat. They are found not only in the bigger and smaller islands, but in the North coast of Evia as well and inside the Pagassitikos Gulf (Volos) and the East coast of Thessaly mainland. Another area to explore is the MARINE PARK of the seal Monachus-Monachus just where the minor islands of Piperi, Kyra-Panagia, Yioura, Peristera, Psathoura, Skyropoula, and Skantzoura) are situated.

Route Lefkas / Preveza

This is the perfect sailing area for a relaxing holiday especially on a catamaran! A reliable afternoon breeze for sailing and numerous interesting places to visit. Our Catamarans are based in Lefkas, the starting point of your holiday with its own airport, so you can be aboard your boat in next to no time. From here you can sail north to Corfu, Paxos, Antipaxos, Syvota and Parga or south to Kefalonia, Ithaca and Zakynthos and the smaller islands Meganisi, Kalamos and Kastos.

There are many quiet sandy beaches in picturesque coves where you can anchor, enjoy an afternoon of water sports or if you prefer a stroll on the beach.

The wind and sailing conditions in the Ionian Sea are ideal and predictable. From May to September the wind blows from North-West at Force 2-5 arriving around noon, and calming down before sunset. During the months of July and August, the above said winds can blow a little stronger than usual but in general the weather conditions in the area are extremely favourable for a relaxing and trouble-free sailing vacation making the area a highly recommended place for family and smooth sailing in July.

The Ionian Islands located on the western side of mainland Greece, are seven main islands that are different from many of the Greek islands in the Aegean sea and are distinguished by their fertile land covered with olive groves and cypress trees and crystal clear blue waters.
